INTAKE ADDENDUM FOR YOUTH CLIENTS UNDER 18

Additional Limits of Confidentiality

In addition to the Limits of Confidentiality outlined in the main Client Intake packet, we wish to make both the youth and guardian aware of additional situations when the therapist may be required to break confidentiality due to concern of a threat to the youth's safety. These generally involve situations when the threat of harm may not be imminent, but constitutes a significant concern for the youth's ongoing safety, and requires intervention by a parent or guardian.

Some examples of these situations include:

- STI Transmission
- Extreme Risk Taking Behavior
- Severe Truancy

To the best of the therapist's ability, they will discuss the need to break confidentiality with the youth prior to doing so. If you have any questions or concerns about confidentiality, please discuss this with your therapist. Please sign below to acknowledge these additional limits of confidentiality.
